Feature Article:

What's the Answer? Unite for America

By Nancy Levant

The problem with being an ignorant voter is that you reap what you sow. American people, who have stood arrogantly and religiously behind televised platforms, while never once following, reading, and comprehending bills and legislation in Congress, are suddenly saying to themselves, "Oh, sh!" Well, no sh, Sherlocks...

We were divided, by our television mentalities, into red and blue camps. We, as a united people, were aborted, so to speak, and cleverly so. It became far more important to be a "conservative" or a "liberal" than to know the facts and power of our division. And as we continued to be ignorant people, our conservative and liberal leadership, the ones we elected in droves, changed our nation into their nation, for our leadership is, and for decades has been, a hybrid Socialist-Communist group who is fully, completely dedicated to the United Nations, the World Bank, the World Trade Organization, or, in other words, a one-world government where the rich rule humanity. If you are a red or a blue, you, too, are a global-Socialist. The condition of your country and the result of your vote is proof positive.

And now, the sleepy masses are having a tough time sleeping. Their nation is starting to scare them. Their elected, as so aptly demonstrated any day or night of the week on C-SPAN, are very creepy aristocrats – very creepy. I've said many times that they are fascinating to watch, and you will notice the pat and standard and incessant dribble – the non-stop dribble, which never, ever, addresses Socialist globalism, but only "security," which, in absolute truth and fact, means their security.

Between 9-11, the set up of the Martial Law/paramilitary system, non-stop hiding of legislation that is chipping away at our Constitution, our land, and all other rights; judicial hocus pocus, implementation of the NGO/partnership/stakeholding bureaucracy, which is PERMANENTLY eliminating local governments (that means village, burg, town, city, and county government), and replacing them with U.N.-defined "regions" and their appointed vs. elected NGO leadership, AND a thousand other points of global light, don't think for one moment that you, yourselves, are morally superior in any conservative or liberal belief systems. You are all fools. We are all fools. We threw out the baby, which was freedom, with profound arrogance and pride.

And now I would like to address Christianity in America. If I hear one more Christian stating that he or she is thrilled with the "end-time" scenario in America, I think I will scream. If Christians are going to insist upon acting like religious radicals, mandating who and what is good and evil, while sitting back and watching the kindest, most successful political system in the history of humankind be, once again, destroyed by aristocrats, greed, and power-mongering, then don't write to me about "the rapture" while you allow your churches to be faith-based and "partnered" to geo-political money and mandates. If you believe in unalienable rights, friggin' fight for them! I am sick to death of religious radicalism. I can't remember a time in my life or in history when it wasn't a global monstrosity and bloodbath. Enough with the arrogance! God does not need screaming me-me's. If you believe in Christianity, serve humanity. And for that matter, and no matter to which religion you prescribe, serve humanity and humble yourselves if you want a religious leg to stand on!

Finally, and having considered arrogance in this article, please let us ask what we can do in spite of ourselves. The question on everyone's mind is, "What do we do now that we see what we have done (and not done)?" We now realize that what we face is way, way beyond monumental, for we realize that the future, and what may be the immediate future, is bitterly and terrifyingly grim. And my countrymen, there is only one answer.

Red and blue, Black and White and Native and Latino and Asian, young and old alike – every American citizen from every walk of life must realize that freedom comes first. It trumps every, single political hot-potato issue, every single "security" development, and every individual political, social, and religious opinion. If you don't have freedom, opinion and individual belief is illegal. And aristocrats make your freedom illegal.

You will be told, in no uncertain terms, what your opinions will be. This is exactly what is happening to every single American child in the American public school system today. They are being drilled with new and mandated opinions – as per the mandates of the United Nations, its Outcome-Based Education, its School-To-Work Socialist-corporate mission, and its Socialist-Communist teachers unions. The new and enslaved citizen worker is upon us, and they are our children – the ones who will never know opinion or freedom.

Unite in mass – every American citizen – every single one of us – together and absolutely, steadfastly, indivisible. Get off of the red and blue grid and refuse its power. For all of you who want to know what to do, unite behind freedom, liberty, and justice for all. For if we don't unite in mass, all of our opinions will die terrible and bitter deaths. Everything that you personally believe in will be yanked from you – everything.

And if you still believe that "security" is the driving factor of our leadership, and you still believe that 9-11 is the reason for our nation's sweeping "changes," than you have succumbed to the oldest indoctrination scam in the book – create fear, implant new power. Systematically, another aristocracy is taking down another nation. It's the oldest political trick in history, and this time, that nation is ours.

In all of documented human history, the lesson that mankind has steadfastly failed to learn is that you cannot allow aristocrats and wealth to rule over mankind. Freedom is taken, first and foremost, and oppressive rule by the few always becomes dictatorial and brutal – ALWAYS.

The world is now fully under the dictates of wealthy aristocrats, their financial systems, their corporations and bureaucracies, and their academic institutions. Unbelievably so, we have allowed them powers unimaginable. We have looked away while they abused those powers and systematically removed ours. It's time to unite. Together, and in one voice, we must tell them that this nation is OURS. The continued public support of freedom's suicide must stop else we WILL reap what was so mindlessly sown. We must become Americans for the survival of America.

Furthermore, American people must understand that freedom and democracy are two very different things, which is why our nation was set up as a Republic and, specifically, not a democracy. Study up! And one last crumb for thought – America, as a nation, is not in this battle alone. People in all nations are facing the exact same globalization power crisis. We must support the freedom efforts of all people in all nations, and the DOES NOT MEAN that they have to think or believe as we believe! Human beings, and not just American people, have the right to self-determination. We are all in this together, and our power is in tremendous numbers. And on an endnote, buy gold and silver. Your money is not money.

Church and State Separation

by Carolyn Lanham~NFC Member, Ohio

While the finishing stages of the nation are being implemented and the structures of globalism, regionalism, and internationalism, are embedded, and the country and peoples are presently being cemented into a policed surveillance state and borderless world, the slumbering 'church' is finally awakening to the 'culture' war and engaging and proclaiming a new birth ministry of their First Amendment right of free speech to which some say a hearty AMEN—it's about time!!!!!!!!!!!!!!

The liberal leftist 'churches' have been involved with their 'ministries' of politics for many years with nary a cry for "Separation of Church and State". Indeed many conservative, fundamental pastors have discouraged their flocks from being politically active so as not to hurt the cause of Christ and admonished from the pulpits, that the forces of evil should be fought just by proclaiming the Word, saving souls, staying safe within scriptures and the church wall boundaries. Thus the evil forces were handed free reign and the nation's foundations crumbled. The Christian heritage bequeathed by the Founding Fathers, many of whom sacrificed their lives, their families, and fortunes was buried 'neath the pulpit and pew in exchange for comfort, complacency, withdrawal and outright 'cowardliness'.

Now engaged and arising is a new breed of present day neo-Patriots manning the pulpits calling for the sleeping church to engage the culture—New groups, businesses, 'ministries' (usually controlled from the top),— all issue oriented so they say, focusing on family, community values, melding government/private partnerships, faith-based government controlled 'churches' via Caesar, anti-abortion 'ministries' etc. etc. —a breath of fresh air rising from the stenchy pews and moldy pulpits of indifference??????? Whoa!!!

Mega churches, multiple denominations, out and out shysters, career oriented professional preachers, radio stars, show biz personalities, large megaplexes, sports arenas, big screened TVs, bring on the big named speakers of fortune and fame to help the cause— numerous vacations (missionary outreaches), high priced fashions, big productions, but don't touch or criticize God's anointed!!!! PLEASE!!! (This is no way criticize the remnant of true believers and those pastors and churches faithfully standing for Christ and His Word) nor those not bowing to Caesars government 501c3. Remember the Baptist Temple that 'Christian' President Bush allowed government thugs to shut down—where were ye, Skull and Bones bird finger George? Common Mr. and Mrs. Middleclass, Mr. and Mrs. Saved Believer or Mr. and Mrs. Thinker have beheld the hand of big government that has now become Master rather than Servant—they live payday to payday sinking further and further into extinction no matter WHICH party is in power—so goes the nation--They well remember the one room churches, the firey sermons read of Billy Sunday and learned from scripture of the bold and uncompromising Bible heroes who went to the firey furnace, landed behind bars, were beheaded, because they had the convictions and discernment to SEE THE POWERS THAT BE FOR THE EVIL THAT THEY WERE!!!

Today the neocons, politicians, and deceivers are invited TO THE PULPITS, TO THE CHURCHES, ENDORSED BY THEM—the minny-skirted mouthy media whores, selling books while they GAMBLE their VIRTUES, the foxy slick boot-licking government 'Hannitized' media pimps, as they promote policies of more lock down government surveillance and control of the PEOPLE as they cover for the globalists and destruction of this nation to the anti christ world government system— AND THE VERY self proclaimed 'CHRISTIAN' POLITICIANS PARTAKING OF THIS EVIL!

THESE CHURCHES AND MINISTRIES ARE RODDING AND HELPING TO BRING EVIL IN RATHER THAN OPPOSING AND EXPOSING IT--

Christ said many would come in His name—

Ever been deceived by a politician???? I have—Like to rub elbows with famous politicians and get those invites to Washington circles—oh, Caesar doth entertain as a roaring lion—Ever noticed around election time candidates becoming 'christian', more family oriented—more in tune with us common folk etc.— good for getting the vote—especially from the gullible—

Why don't we apply the Bible- know them by their FRUITS-not just what they SAY—What groups do they belong to and what affiliations—any secret groups?—by that I mean those who are in groups that take secret oaths and swear to the brotherhood—who do they really worship?—lord,—which Lord?— is their 'church' at Bohemian Grove? Don't expect Shaun Hannity or Rush Limbaugh to discern for you—How about the Council on Foreign Relations—just a group of the distinguished or a group of traitors?—READ THEIR PUBLICATIONS—KNOW THEIR FRUITS!—does any candidate you promote and endorse belong to these groups????—ask them —KNOW THEIR FRUITS—Mason membership?— who is their god—internationalist groups? Their FRUIT is ROTTEN no matter what they SAY—Issues are one thing to speak on but 'voter guides' are a slick way to endorse candidates. These guides just endorse and acknowledge the main candidates and controlled 'opposition' parties, and ignore other parties and candidates opposing the globalists on the guides. This movement is more dangerous and sinister because it is more deceptive—IT OFFERS FALSE ALTERNATIVES— it leads the same direction, down the road to tyranny and total government that the liberal leftist churches and groups have been driving us down for years—Under the guise of liberal 'christianity' or establishment 'conservative' christianity using the church as the vehicle and mode of operation. The 'CHURCH' brings it in—The goal is the SAME! The RESULTS will be the SAME—the players change but the agenda stays the same—Laugh it off as a Conspiracy theory—yet again read the Bible—plenty of conspiracy examples there.

Separation of Church and State?— or melding church and state for World Government by being deceived or a willing part of the deception. May God in His grace give us discernment for such a time as this.

2006: YEAR OF THE TIGER

by Devvy Kidd

"A political party is an elegant incognito, designed to save people from the vexation of having to think for themselves." Bonnie MacDougal, author, Out of Order

Is everyone on information overload yet? Do rational, clear thinking individuals understand at this point in history our "elected" public servants no longer listen to we the people - except those who have their hands out for more and more social welfare programs? Does anyone really believe that petitions and e-mails to members of Congress and your state legislatures are going to save this country or make a difference? Now, you get electronic form letters instead of snail mail form letters. Oh, there's a small victory here and there, but we should all remember that those "victories" are ones given up by the enemy, who at the same time, vote to continue the total destruction of our important job bases, i.e., CAFTA. It's called guerilla warfare.

The elitists who are orchestrating a one world government have just about completed their work here in America. I have been watching this unfold since 1991. We have now reached the point where one can see the giant octopus with its thousands of tentacles getting ready to squeeze the lifeblood out of our republic once and for all. There is no political leadership in this country, just a bunch of crooks at all levels of government selling US out. Private industry is all but destroyed with millions of workers now depending on government largess in the form of grants and contracts to stay afloat. Because Americans are now so desperate for any decent paying jobs (watch the pink slips coming from Ford this week), they are taking jobs from the enemy. Check this e-mail I received (unsolicited) to promote job growth for the dangerous, wasteful and completely unnecessary behemoth called "Homeland Security":

"The strategic analysis of the complex market dynamics of the emerging U.S. and International Homeland Security and Homeland Defense markets, the trends and business opportunities in the next 5-10 years are only but a few of the items described and analyzed in the following market research:

"In over 400 pages, 194 graphs and 109 tables, Homeland Security Research Corp provides the only road map of this global market, which is expected to grow from $28B in 2003 to $178B in 2015. This market research provides an exclusive insight into this vibrant industry, analyzed by 6 categories:

"2006 - 2015 Market Segmentation by End Customer - (e.g., Government Agencies, Private Sector, State & Local, Intelligence Community, Armed Forces)
2006 - 2015 Market Segmentation by Geographical Territories - (e.g., U.S., E.U., PRC, India)
2006 - 2015 Market Segmentation by Mission Area - (e.g., Border & Transportation Security, Intelligence and Warnings, Domestic Counterterrorism)
2006 - 2015 Market Segmentation by Homeland Security and Homeland Defense Sectors
2006 - 2015 Business Opportunities by Threats & Vulnerabilities - (e.g., CBRN, Intelligence Community, Maritime Security, Aviation Security)

"Further, we are also offering a complementary printable poster-size map of the 184 U.S. federal agencies & government bodies that make up the HLS/HLD network. Please contact glebw@hsrc.bizto get this map sent to you.

"Homeland Security" produces nothing but more and more draconian and unconstitutional regulations to crush our freedoms and liberties. Instead of Americans producing what we need to survive, remain sovereign and independent, our industrial, agricultural and manufacturing sectors are all but dead. Millions of jobs shipped to foreign countries, many of whom are our enemy. Americans are now pushing paper for foreign governments or taking federal or state government jobs in order to simply exist. More and more Americans are using their savings every month to stay afloat. Last year millions filed for bankruptcy and too many are using their credit cards for groceries.

In order to hide the true state of our dying economy, Congress continues to pass huge financial crutches like the recent $284.5 BILLION dollar transportation bill to create jobs. It is truly tragic that foolish Americans hailed this bill as "...significant victories for low-income and minority communities. Thanks to advocates for transportation equity, the bill includes provisions that encourage job growth and training...." There is no money in the U.S. Treasury for this massive employment scheme. These thieves in Congress will have to borrow it from the privately owned FED, putting your children and grand babies into massive, unpayable debt to create jobs for you.

Let me repeat this so it sinks in: In order for you to have a job, you will enslave your children and their children into financial servitude, little better than beasts of burden. Then, that same benevolent employer (the federal government) fleeces you in taxes to pay BILLIONS in interest to the private FED for the borrowed money that created your new job. At the same time, these lawbreakers in Congress will further rape you in taxes to send BILLIONS in unconstitutional foreign aid to tin pot dictatorships around the world and fund political parties in Russia and Iran. God, what a truly sad legacy to a nation once rich in independence and opportunity.

The federal and state governments are not supposed to create jobs as the main staple of employment in a free enterprise system. Dumbed down Americans don't realize this is how communism emerges as the political and economic system in a country. Americans are walking right into the well laid trap of financial bondage. No matter what the master will then do to the people, the people won't bite the hand that issues the paycheck. This is how slaves are made. Think I'm exaggerating? Here is the response from one brother to another in a recent e-mail; I've X'd out the names to protect the man's identity:

"Thanks for all the good articles you have sent. I am going to have to ask you not to send anything more that is subversive concerning our government. 100% of our work is for the local, state and federal governments. We do all of the work on all of the federally owned office buildings and courthouses in XXXX and XXXXX as well as the XXX and the XXXXX Air National Guard Air Base. Should XXXX, Inc. come under investigation and these negative articles are found on my hard drive they could jeopardize our good standing with our government customers. Thank you in advance for your understanding."

This guy thinks exposing corruption is subversive! Trying to educate Americans about the historical founding of this republic, their rights and how they're being violated is "subversive concerning our government?" What did I say? No matter what the master will then do to the people, the people won't bite the hand that issues the paycheck. We have passed the point of no return. It's now time to make the commitment to do whatever has to be done or pack it in, because as I said in my last column, the noose is tightening.

Most Americans are aware of the highly successful Minutemen Project. What started with an idea born out of frustration and anger over the massive invasion across our borders, has snow balled into a firestorm that can no longer be ignored by Washington, DC and the 50 governors of the states of the Union. Jim Gilchrist and Chris Simcox didn't just talk, they put their efforts into action and the results are phenomenal.

Our fellow Americans in the great State of Tennessee did the same thing a few years ago when their state legislature tried to shove a state income tax down their throats. This is a fantastic example of action vs words. When the people took to the streets and put the pressure on their lawbreakers, they won. I encourage you to read the history of this magnificent fight by your fellow Americans here. Read how success can be achieved when the people exert their power.

How many Americans know the story of Jodi Waters and MTBE? One woman, who at the time was going through a divorce raising four teenagers, brought our former corrupt Governor Pete Wilson and his oil company cronies to their knees. One woman is responsible for the banning of MTBE in California's gasoline and started a nationwide movement to ban it in all gasoline. This is one of the most amazing stories that unfolded right in my backyard that dwarfs Erin Brockovich, except that Jodi hasn't received anywhere near the recognition she deserves. One woman who amassed an army of volunteers (including yours truly) who surrounded the State Capitol - along with semi trucks blasting their horns - and made these pompous, self-important legislators take her seriously despite the sickening character assassination by every major newspaper in this state. Later these same newspapers had to eat their words, although they never once apologized to Jodi.

On the legal front, there is a very important event coming up in April:

Rally against legal abuse, April 17, 2006

"On April 17, 2006 at 1:00 pm EST, victims of legal abuse, legal reformers, Constitutionalists, and freedom minded people will join together at the Rayburn Congressional Office Building, the location of the House Judiciary Committee, to demand that the Committee hold hearings on legal abuse in America. The rally is being promoted by The Patriot Caucus and the Citizens Justice Institute.

"Legal abuse afflicts millions of Americans each year. Its symptoms are usually pretty obvious.

It occurs when the legal system delivers injustice instead of justice.

It occurs when one side gets special treatment...negative or positive.

It occurs when the facts don't matter, but the choice of a well placed lawyer does.

It occurs when procedure is manipulated to foil a fair result.

It occurs when dirty pool is played by every side but yours., and the judge encourages it. It occurs when laws and policies are enforced selectively, unreasonably or inappropriately.

"The Citizens Justice Institute repeatedly contacted Congressman James Sensenbrenner seeking to have him hold hearings on legal abuse, and public dissatisfaction with the legal system. No response was ever received, thus we believe a rally is appropriate. The Citizens Justice Institute produces materials for pro se litigants. It has a web site at citizensjustice.com It is headed by Boston lawyer David Grossack who can be reached at patriotcaucus@gmail.com for more information."

David Grossack is one smart man and I was happy to assist in getting one of his fine columns published on NWVs. Now he is putting his plan into action beginning with this event in April. It's no surprise Sensenbrenner never responded to David's request. Sensenbrenner is one of the most dangerous, anti-American individuals in the U.S. Congress. We need constitutionalists who are lawyers to get to this event, network, plan and execute throughout the fifty states of the Union. We need Americans from all walks of life to get to this event and make a show of numbers so great, these buzzards in Congress will see that the people have had enough - just like those fabulous Tennesseans, just like all of us who showed up at the State Capitol here in Sacramento for Jodi's rallies and just like our dedicated Americans who have become part of the Minutemen Project.

Those in WVA, VA, MD and PA - let's see you there in the thousands. Only a massive show of bodies is going to make any difference from here on out. Our Founding Fathers and those who birthed this republic were the moneyed class of their time. They were willing to sacrifice their lives if necessary. Are we so soft that material objects or fun times are worth our money, but fighting for our freedom isn't?

We the people must take our fight to the street like these success stories I've told you about: become highly visible. We the people must organize and stop this melt down. Either you are ready to make the commitment, just like the Minutemen, just like our fellow country men and women in Tennessee, just like all of us who volunteered to help Jodi and just like David Grossack is doing or remain mute while America falls to totalitarian government.

How do we do this? In future columns I'm going to give you my ideas and suggestions in citizen activism, how you build your local organization, what to do and what not to do, maximizing your time, how to sell your idea or concept and so forth. I don't have all the answers, but I have been in the trenches literally 24/7 for 16 long years. I've seen what works, what doesn't and I know my fellow Americans need help in how to get things going.

A government of, by and for the people means exactly that: we the people must become a force to be reckoned with because time grow short. The situation is far more desperate than most would like to admit, but it's here and it's in our face. Like the use of depleted uranium, stopping the destruction of this country is an American issue. United we will prevail, divided by silly political party games will surely kill us. Our destiny is in our hands. It is for none but the brave. Will 2006 be the Year of the Tiger when America roars or will we go down with nary a whimper?

Democratic Response to State of Union Address

Submitted by Dan Kairis~NFC
Member from Illinois

The following are excerpts from the Democratic response to President Bush's State of the Union address from Senate Minority Leader Harry Reid and House Minority Leader Nancy Pelosi.
REID:

Too many of the president's economic policies have left Americans and American companies struggling. And after we worked so hard to eliminate the deficit, his policies have added trillions to the debt — in effect, a "birth tax" of $36,000 on every child that is born.

Health-care costs have shot up double digits year after year of the Bush administration, and that's costing us jobs, costing us our competitiveness and costing families their peace of mind.

Good, new jobs, world-class education, affordable health care — these things matter. That's why we so strongly disagree with the president's plan to privatize Social Security.

Let me share with you why I believe the president's plan is so dangerous. There's a lot we can do to improve Americans' retirement security, but it's wrong to replace the guaranteed benefit that Americans have earned with a guaranteed benefit cut of up to 40 percent. The Bush plan would take our already record-high $4.3

trillion national debt and put us another $2 trillion in the red. That's an immoral burden to place on the backs of the next generation.

PELOSI: We all know that the United States cannot stay in Iraq indefinitely and continue to be viewed as an occupying force, neither should we slip out the back door, falsely declaring victory but leaving chaos. Despite the best efforts of our troops and their Iraqi counterparts, Iraq still faces a violent and persistent insurgency.

And the chairman of the National Intelligence Council said in January that Iraq is now a magnet for international terrorists. We have never heard a clear plan from this administration for ending our presence in Iraq. And we did not hear one tonight.

It's been over three years since the attacks of September 11th. Our hopes and prayers will always be with the 9/11 families, who strengthen our resolve to win the war on terror. The pain and horror of that day will never be forgotten by any of us, yet the gaps in our security exposed by those attacks remain.

Despite the administration's rhetoric, airline cargo still goes uninspected, shipping containers go unscreened, and our railroads and power plants are not secure. Police officers and firefighters across America have pleaded for the tools they need to prevent or respond to an attack, but the administration still hasn't delivered for our first responders.

The greatest threat to our homeland security are the tons of biological, chemical and even nuclear materials that are unaccounted for or unguarded.

For three years, the president has failed to put together a comprehensive plan to protect America from terrorism, and we did not hear one tonight. And we must protect and defend the American people, and we must also protect and defend our Constitution and the civil liberties contained therein. That is our oath of office. A strong and secure America was our parents' gift to us. We owe our children and our grandchildren nothing less.

Bush and Cheney should to be impeached

by Virginia Brooks~NFC Member from Ohio

I have come to the conclusion that 75% of the American people have been dumbed down by the forces that have control of our government, media, TV, and indeed our schools, to the point they can not even decipher what is right or wrong. It seems that those who managed to weave the web of lies and deceit in order to get the U.S. into another war, are allowed to make millions of dollars because of that deceit, which might be called war profiteering. George Tenet, former CIA director, who won a $4 million book deal, Paul Wolfowitz, is now president of the World Bank with a $300,000 tax free income, a mortgage allowance and golfing club membership. Gen Tommy Franks, received $4 million for his memoirs and paid $75,000 for speeches. If this isn't profiteering, what would you call it? Also, there are questionable unbid contracts with Haliburton, close intimate ties to Bush and Cheney, have been given out since the war started, with no accountability. How about Donald Rumsfeld's investments in a foreign-owned company doing business in Iraq with Cerberus Global, this is prohibited by U.S. Ethics law.

There is a huge majority of people asking for the impeachment of Bush & Cheney. For those who can't imagine why! Just a few of facts that would require impeachment are: Lying to the American People, and abuse of power. The document entitled "The Constitution in Crisis," sites substantial evidence for many violations of federal law by top administration officials. Including in these charges are Bush and Cheney for doctoring intelligence reports to justify the illegal invasion of Iraq. Bush ignored and refused to respond to a letter signed by 122 members of Congress and more than 500,000 Americans, asking him whether information in the infamous "Downing Street memo," alleging that the White House doctored intelligence was accurate. Since Bush and his staff refused to respond, a document was drafted for immediate proceedings for impeachment to be started. It is stated in this document that there is a prima facie case that these actions by the president, vice president, and other members of the Bush administration violated a number of federal laws, including committing a fraud against the United States; making false statement to Congress, violating the War powers Resolution; misuse of government funds; violating international treaties prohibiting torture; violating federal laws concerning retaliating against witnesses and other individuals and violating federal laws concerning leaking and other misuse of intelligence.

Other offenses that should be considered in these charges is the illegal use of wire tapping & e-mail surveillance without warrants, the patriot act, (I agree with Rep. Ron Paul that the patriot act absolutely usurps the constitution of the United State of America and every congress critter that voted for it should be thrown out of office, if not now then at re-election time,) (Rep. Ron Paul of Texas says the USA Patriot Act, one of the scariest pieces of legislation in U.S. History,) and the further misuse of funds to establish Unconstitutional Homeland Security. The people in charge of the NSA, which received orders from Attorney General Alberto Gonzales, should also be indicted in this process. No one is above the law. And anyone who can not see the detrimental effects that at least the past two administrations have done to this country, then quite possibly it is time for a head check, get the drift? The two parties have done so much damage to this country, that quite frankly, I wonder if we can ever regain our prestige in this country and the world again. Is it time to exit these parties and be completely independent of them to recover from their damage.

Now we come to the most recent offense that is raising eyebrows of many in the know, as well it should. Allowing people to return money received from Abramoff, who is under federal indictment, no way folks, you accepted it illegally, you do the time! No deals this time.

I want you to read the following statement written by Cicero, a Roman Statesman, which is so true, especially today:

{A Nation Can Survive Its Fools and even the ambitious, but it cannot survive Treason from within. An enemy at the gates is less formidable, for he is known and carries his banners openly. But the Traitor moves among those within the gates freely, his sly whispers rustling through all the alleys, heard in the very halls of Government itself, for the traitor appears not as a Traitor; He speaks in the accents familiar to his victims, and he wears their face and their garments, and he appeals to the baseness that lies deep in the hearts of all men. He rots the soul of a nation; He works secretly and unknown in the night to undermine the pillars of the city. He infects the body politic so that it can no longer resist. A murderer is less to be feared.}

ROSIE THE RIVETER KICKED A!

By Frosty Wooldridge

During World War II, a colorful poster featuring "Rosie the Riveter" rolling up her sleeves to show her muscle—set the tone for every American woman to step into the factories and work for our country in a time of grave danger. Rosie, we need you now!

Today, we need a call to arms within our own country. The 9/11 WTC plane bombings that killed 3,000 Americans will prove small in comparison to the accelerating Mexican invasion of our borders. Massive, unending legal and illegal immigration has created more deaths, more destruction of American families and more chaos in our communities across the nation—than anything previous in America's 230 year history.

This is not the time to grumble, complain, give up or make excuses. Like Rosie the Riveter who rolled up her sleeves in WWII, it's your honor and privilege to serve your country in this time of foreign invasion. I'm proud to announce Michelle Dallacroce of Phoenix, Arizona with her new web site: www.mothersagainstilllegalaliens.org or contact her at mothersagainstilllegalaliens@yahoo.com. Dallacroce organized a citizen initiative against Home Depot for hiring and supporting illegal aliens in 'day labor' centers across the country. Home Depot sponsors such centers in violation of our federal immigration laws. It's illegal, it's unethical and it's highly profitable for Home Depot. The CEO of Home Depot grows richer while we suffer more consequences in our communities. Help Dallacroce help you modern day 'Rosie' mothers do a little a kicking across America for all our kids.

Next, William Gheen of www.alipac.org rolled up his sleeves with one of the most ambitious national campaigns to date: "The Stop Illegal Aliens National Flyer Campaign Makes History." <http://www.alipac.us/article-985-thread-1-0.html> CONTACT: Americans for Legal Immigration Political Action Committee (ALIPAC) WilliamG@alipac.us (866) 329-3999.

"Last week, the North Carolina Bankers Association released a $160,000 "study" that clearly tried to make a point," Gheen said. "The point they tried to make was that all Hispanics in the state were needed, even the illegal ones, due to their approximate $9 billion dollar per year financial activity in the state. This study, which was applauded by the Mexican government, tried to conceal the devastating impact of illegal aliens by mixing them in with our state's legal Hispanic community. Such a tactic is not only clearly racist, but also a grave insult to Hispanics and legal immigrants of all ethnicities." (NC suffers one million illegal aliens.)

Gheen added, "This report found that although the number of jobs had increased that wages had decreased by almost $2 billion dollars! Many banks are giving illegal aliens mortgages that are illegally backed by the FHA. Loose translation: They are giving illegals loans that you and I have to pay back as taxpayer when we deport them or they are incarcerated for crimes."

"Americans for Legal Immigration PAC (ALIPAC) announced that 45 organizations have joined the National Flyer Campaign in an unprecedented cooperative effort to stop illegal aliens and companies that employ illegal labor," Gheen said. "Each organization is sending the flyer to their supporters and placing access to the flyer on their websites. Citizen volunteers are responding by printing the flyers at home and deploying them in communities from Wilmington, NC to Costa Mesa, California."

The flyers contain instructions, in both English and Spanish, for employers to screen their employees using the SAVE (Systematic Alien Verification for Entitlements) program. That information is followed by instructions for employees and citizens to report employers that hire illegal aliens to the authorities directly or via www.WeHireAliens.com.

Electronic copies of the flyer are available from each participating organization and via the ALIPAC website at www.ALIPAC.us. The campaign is still open to organizations that wish to participate. Only organizations that are committed to non-racist, civic minded actions will be considered.

Please understand you are not alone in your frustration, anger and distaste for our politicians in Washington, DC who whistle, fiddle and diddle while our country suffers invasion. Congressman Tom Tancredo, America's champion standing up against this illegal invasion, grows in influence daily. He's working for all Americans. His Immigration Caucus grew to 93 members in 2005. We expect it to grow to 200 in 2006.

Yours truly will lead the "21st Century Paul Revere Riders" on a nationwide bicycle charge from the West Coast to Washington, DC this summer. This ride drives this invasion issue down politicians' throats whether they like it or not. Hundreds of small towns and 48 state capitols will hear our wrath. We will give a voice to every American. We WILL affect the 2006 elections.

For those women out there watching Geena Davis in "Commander in Chief" each week, it matters little whether you are conservative or liberal, take heart by the way "Mac" runs the White House—with intelligence, integrity, grit and honor. She stands up to the crap that Donald Sutherland, 'Speaker of the House', gives her as he slithers around each week. Every American woman take heart and empowerment from Geena Davis. In your own way, with the tremendous web sites available today, you are Betsy Ross, Susan B. Anthony, Coretta King, Congresswoman Barbara Jordan and a growing list of confident, active men and women Americans in the 21st century.

We cannot wait, hope or trust that Bush and Congress will block this invasion. You possess the power to challenge their delinquency by rolling up your sleeves for your children, your family and your country.

Disaster Ahead for America

by Earl Wilson~NFC Member from Florida

We must wake up right now to what is happening, before it is too late.

If Iraq plunges into civil war between Shiites and Sunnis, our troops in Iraq will be right in the middle of a bloody conflict which will engulf the whole Middle East ... and may well spread to other Islamic areas from Morocco to Indonesia and the Philippines.

We have only to look back at the Iran-Iraq war of the 1980s and 90s to see that, now as then, the neighboring Arab states will not stay neutral in the event of such a conflict. During the Iran-Iraq war all the neighboring Sunni Arab states sent aid to Iraq ... Syria, Egypt, Jordan, Saudi Arabia, Yemen, the Trucial sheikdoms ... and other states outside of the region. They sent arms and ammunition, trucks, tanks, artillery, military supplies and volunteer fighters. The Arab world's great historic enemy is Iran, Shiite, non-Arab, Persian Iran, with its more than 60 million people.

Civil War is already happening in Iraq. As it gets underway, Iran will send its armies into Iraq, and armies of neighboring Sunni Arabs will enter the battle. Our troops will be caught in the middle and will suffer losses which will dwarf our losses to date. Our press and politicians will scream for more troops for Iraq. The draft will have to be imposed and wartime emergency measures activated, which will result in a police state being imposed in America, just as planned.

What in the world are we doing? ... getting involved in an Islamic holy war between two historic Islamic enemies, the Sunnis and the Shiites? Why did we provoke this? How did this happen? ... and especially, why did it happen? We have no reason to side with either side, Sunni nor Shiite. We were tricked and pushed into invading Iraq by a series of lies about weapons of mass destruction, about Saddam Hussein collaborating with his enemy, Ben Laden, to plan 9-11, about Saddam Hussein using Nigerian yellow-cake to build atom bombs, etc. All lies.

Why were we lied to and pushed into the invasion of Iraq? By whom?

It was the Neo-Cons around Bush II who gathered these lies from the INC (Iraqi National Congress) in London, headed by Neo-Con favorite (and deep-cover Israeli agent) Ahmed Chelabi, and fed them directly to a willing and complicit Bush in the White House, by-passing the CIA and the whole Intelligence community in the process.

To those who claim Bush II was not in on the conspiracy to deceive us by those lies ... it is more than an odd coincidence that his father, Bush I, earlier had tricked Saddam Hussein into invading Kuwait by having his ambassatrix April Glaspie tell Saddam that it was alright to invade Kuwait, thus starting the 1st Gulf War.

Who benefitted by both wars (the 1st Gulf War and the later US invasion of Iraq? (Cui bono, forensic basics). The US? Hardly. Then who?

It is well-known that Israel considered Saddam Hussein as Israel's worst enemy in the Arab world. And the Neo-Cons are all Jewish, and have constantly pushed for US support of Israel. How can the fact be any clearer that US troops in Iraq are there to fight for Israeli interests?

We must get our troops out before they become so entangled in a massive Sunni-Shiite civil war ... that we can't pull them out, and are forced to send massive troop reinforcements to rescue them.

How did we get into such a situation, where sinister foreign interests can control our governments and manipulate our nation into war after war, none of which benefit the US nor the American people, but are fought for the interests and ambitions of foreign and international financiers, bankers and wealthy industrialists.

We Americans have not participated as we should have in our national decision-making and the political process, the way the Founding Fathers intended when they wrote our Constitution. We have not been vigilant over our national politics. We have let politicians (like the Neo-Cons) run things for us. We must all get involved again, starting from the local grass-roots ... Today!

If we are caught in the middle of a vast Middle East war, American boys will die in large numbers to achieve Israel's long-announced purpose: to conquer Eretz Israel (the whole Middle East) for Israel.

We cannot let this happen.

The Imperial President and the Breakdown of the Rule of Law

By John W. Whitehead

The "accumulation of all powers, legislative, executive, and judiciary, in the same hands... may justly be pronounced the very definition of tyranny."

James Madison, Federalist Paper
No. 47

George W. Bush assumed near-absolute power soon after the September 11, 2001, attacks. Unfettered by Congress or the Constitution, Bush led the "war on terror" abroad and championed both the USA Patriot Act and Homeland Security Department domestically. This, of course, led to the Bush Administration's demand that presidential wartime powers permit the President to assume complete control over any and all aspects of an international war on terrorism. Such control included establishing military tribunals and eliminating basic rights long recognized under American law.

The recent revelation that Bush authorized the National Security Agency to secretly spy on American citizens, thus violating federal law and bypassing judicial oversight, raises serious questions concerning presidential power—especially since Bush claims that he possesses "inherent" authority to suspend laws during wartime. Chief among them are a decrease in congressional power to influence wartime decisions and a large increase in power for the executive branch, which would effectively set a historical precedent for unlimited presidential powers.

At stake here is the "rule of law." If the President can simply chart his course and establish his own rules, not being bound by the legislative or judicial branches of the government, he is effectively "above the law." In fact, he is the law.

Indeed, if the judiciary and Congress have significantly diminished roles during perceived times of war, what rule of law binds the President? The frightening answer is that there isn't one.

Generally, history has demonstrated that presidential powers have a constant and evolving ebb and flow. The President's power typically increases dramatically during a time of war and steadily decreases during times of peace. This pattern has had extremely significant consequences through the passage of time.

For example, during the presidency of John Adams, James Madison was shocked out of retirement by what he perceived as an unconstitutional abuse of power. At issue were the Alien and Sedition Acts, which significantly curtailed the rights of foreigners and the press during a time of national crisis. Addressing these laws, Madison, whose words are relevant for today, wrote: "The bill is a monster that must forever disgrace its parents." He added, "It dispenses with trial by jury, it violates the judicial process... and it bestows upon the President despotic power." And this is from the framer who, unlike others who feared a powerful president, supported a strong and independent executive leader. Madison summed up his disapproval of the increasingly powerful executive branch, while also understanding its necessity, when he said, "As there is a degree of depravity in mankind, which requires a certain degree of circumspection and distrust, so there are other qualities in human nature which justify a certain portion of esteem and confidence. Republican government presupposes the existence of these qualities in a higher degree than any other form."

Later, it was Lyndon Johnson who expanded the role and powers of the President. In order to escalate the war in Vietnam, Johnson assumed major war-making powers with little regard for the views of Congress, the judiciary or the general public. For instance, Johnson had already dispersed U.S. forces throughout Vietnam well before Congress had even drafted the Gulf of Tonkin Resolution of 1964, which gave the president the power to resolve the conflict with any means necessary. Likewise, George H. W. Bush had sent off 550,000 soldiers to the perimeter of Kuwait before conceding a "discussion" with Congress about the decision to go to war.

But undoubtedly the most recent glaring example of swelled presidential war powers is illustrated by President Ronald Reagan throughout the 1980s. Reagan successfully embarked on a trail leading to unfettered presidential power and discretion. Reagan's decision to send an American "peacekeeping" force to Lebanon was in complete disregard of the War Powers Resolution. Passed in 1973, this resolution requires, among other things, that the President "consult with Congress" prior to making war. Reagan also snubbed his nose at Congress when he attacked Grenada. On neither of these occasions did Reagan consult Congress, inform Congress or even seem to care what Congress thought about his decisions. Strikingly, in addressing his role as "Commander-in-Chief," Reagan once remarked, "I do not and cannot cede any of the authority vested in me under the Constitution as President and Commander-in-Chief of the United States Armed Forces."

Even congressional and judicial attempts to limit the powers of the President during times of war have failed through time. Therefore, it seems that history, if an adequate and accurate indicator, shows that the President's "imperial power" is virtually unlimited.

However, a "strict constructionist's" view of the Constitution indicates that President Bush is clearly exceeding his power. In fact, while there is a clear tension between the legislature and executive built into the Constitution regarding wartime powers, any objective reading forces one to conclude that Congress must, at the very least, be involved in decisions made by a President. The Constitution clearly divides wartime responsibilities among both the President and Congress. For instance, the President has the following responsibilities: receive diplomatic representatives of other nations, appoint (with the approval of the Senate) U.S. diplomats, negotiate treaties (subject to the ratification of the Senate) and be the commander-in-chief of the armed forces. Congress, on the other hand, shares in this weighty responsibility in the following ways: authority to declare war, raising of military forces, providing funds for the military and the right to ratify or reject treaties.

From this, it is absolutely clear that the framers did not give the President a vast array of unilateral foreign policy powers. As constitutional historian W. Taylor Reveley III writes, "If we could find a man in the state of nature and have him first scan the war-power provisions of the Constitution and then look at war-power practice since 1789, he would marvel at how much Presidents have spun out of so little."

The structure of the Constitution simply fails to support the notion that the President, as George Bush claims, has unfettered—or even more than slightly limited "inherent"—wartime powers. A reasoned review of the list of the above powers and the way they were distributed among Congress and the President reveals a blatant synthesis. It is that the President was to be a liaison, spokesperson and principal diplomat for the young republic, while Congress was to "declare," and by extension "wage," war. Even the provision describing the President as the commander-in-chief fails to support modern ideas of presidential wartime powers assumed by George W. Bush. This language, on its face, provides the President with the clear and unmistakable power to be the leader of the military—not, as has been done, to bypass domestic and foreign law.

This view of the Constitution is consistent with early documents. For instance, the Declaration of Independence was a scathing indictment of a monarch the framers believed had too much power. Consequently, one of the chief concerns of the framers when they created a constitutional system including separation of powers was to significantly limit the power of the President. In fact, many early Americans feared even the existence of a chief executive. And an executive was only created after the Articles of Confederation were changed and the framers determined that a President was a necessary evil to balance out their ingenious form of government. Even then, the office of President was created with an extremely limited role.

Simply put, if we are to preserve any semblance of the framers' vision, presidential power must be restricted to that originally intended. However, practically speaking, such a result is very unlikely. Indeed, an increasingly weak and corrupt

Congress offers little in the way of curbing executive power. As Jonathan Schell writes: "If Congress accepts Bush's usurpation of its legislative power, they will be no Congress and might as well stop meeting."

Dear Fellow Americans

by Harsha Sankar~NFC Member from Virginia

As many cry out for more regulations, consideration should be given to the federal Fair Labor Standards Act, which governs all aspects of wage-and-hour workplace regulations. Whole cottage industry of attorneys are filing claims for small sums under this provision that requires little work beyond the initial filing, then claiming fees sometimes in the tens of thousands of dollars. Many protract the litigation because the law allows them to also collect their fees from the defendants.

Most use the same form for every client and are doing cut-and-paste jobs. Their fee, in a quickly settled case, is often more than ten times the amount paid to the plaintiff. In a 2003 $315.00 claim, attorney Donald Jarret requested $16,000.00. As the Feds continues to target other nations for WMD's, the real proliferation of much graver! concern is the expulsion of lawyers and their fees. This silent social revolution has caused the geometric increase of bureaucracy and its costs in healthcare, in government, in financial capital, in education, and in corporate circles. Avarice and standardless behavior will never stay confined in the legal circle.

It will metastasize, infecting critical fields, and ultimately render society helpless in their stranglehold.

As the 2006 elections near it becomes increasingly important for the public to be (and stay) informed on the issues and how they effect the US citizens. Our goal to unite third parties on these delicate issues and the nearing 2008 elections will require a combined effort from all true patriotic citizens.

The NFC is not a political party and does not demand that anyone abandon their party to join in our support. We are a coalition of concerned citizens that want to unite on given issues or candidates. When individually standing against the established corruption in Washington, there is little that a single third party can accomplish. Whoever, when united as a coalition of third parties for the purpose of dismembering Washington politics "business as usual" there is much that can be accomplished... and that is the business.. the important business of the NFC. Does this sound romantically impossible? It's not, and it's already being achieved in some of the States. Ohio has been very successful with their TOWN HALL MEETINGS and CALL TO ACTION all over the State. We are working with other parties to accomplish our goal of electing REAL Patriots into public office.

The NFC is holding TOWN HALL MEETINGS by teleconference on a national level. Our first meeting for 2006 was on January 17 with representatives of the Constitution Party. Our next will be posted on the NFC website for all interested to attend. The speaker is tentatively scheduled to be the well-known political columnist/radio talk show host, Frosty Wooldridge (Frosty is currently working very closely with the Minuteman Project). You may read Frosty Wooldridge editorials on the NEWS WITH VIEWS web site.

Our work is important... our Country is important... our Children's future is important. The NFC needs your help and support in uniting third parties and citizens in our country.
